

Manta Ray

Manta Rays shovel tiny plankton into their mouths with head fins which are like scoops.

They spend a lot of time in cleaning stations – places where they have parasites removed or wounds cleaned.

Females only give birth to one pup and not even every year!

It's important they are not fished out of the sea because there aren't that many of them.